AIR FORCE CHIEFS GATHER FOR MAJOR CONFERENCES AT AIRSHOW

Air Force chiefs and senior military personnel from around the world will descend on Avalon in March for a broad range of international conferences, seminars and symposia.

The 2011 Australian International Airshow and Aerospace & Defence Exposition feature a comprehensive conference program, including the prestigious Air Chiefs Symposium.

The Royal Australian Air Force will host this major international gathering of Air Chiefs as a prelude to Avalon2011, which brings together senior Air Force and defence representatives from around the world.

In addition to the Air Chiefs Symposium, the 14th Australian International Aerospace Congress will be staged. This pre-eminent aerospace forum will provide significant technical and business opportunities for aerospace professionals, particularly in the Australasian region.

“Hundreds of delegates, speakers and key decision makers from around the world attend these conferences,” says Airshow CEO Ian Honnery. “This series of aviation and aerospace conferences and seminars enhance the events reputation as a major networking forum in the Asia Pacific Region.”

The Australian International Airshow and Aerospace & Defence Exposition program covers all aspects of aviation, including military, civil and general aviation.

For the first time Safeskies, Australia’s premier Aviation Safety Conference will hold a seminar as part of Avalon2011 and as a lead up to the Safeskies 2011 Conference in October.

The Air Traffic Control Association (ATCA) is also conducting an international summit which will explore plans for civil and military collaboration and future directions in air traffic control.

In addition, AUVS-Australia is hosting its first annual conference in conjunction with Avalon2011. This conference on the future unmanned capabilities for Australia in both civil and military applications will compliment the increased focus on UAV’s at this year’s Airshow.

The Australian International Airshow and Aerospace & Defence Exposition will be held from March 1 – 6 at Avalon Airport.
